DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-4 and 13-25, drawn to a drug delivery system wherein the polymer micelle is formed from a block copolymer comprising a hydrophilic chain as the shell and a hydrophobic polymer chain as the core.

Group II, claim(s) 1,5-6 and 13-25, drawn to a drug delivery system wherein the polymer micelle is formed from a block copolymer comprising a hydrophilic chain as the shell and a charged polymer chain as the core.

Group III, claim(s) 1,7-25, drawn to a drug delivery system wherein the polymer micelle is a core shell type polyion complex micelle comprising a hydrophilic polymer chain as a shell, a charged polymer chain and a polymer electrolyte in a core.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: while all the groups are drawn to a drug delivery system comprised of micelles the various types of polymers that make up those micelles are entirely different thus the technical feature is not shared and would thus require a separate search for each polymer. As shown by Zhao (US 20020156047 A1) micelles that contain a hydrophilic shell (PEG) and a hydrophobic core do not necessarily also teach block copolymers containing charged polymers and polymer electrolytes in the core. See abstract. Thus as shown by Zhao the common technical feature of the polymers that comprise the drug delivery system is not shared.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The type of charged polymer within claims 8-10 and the type of polymer electrolyte within claims 11-12

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 8-12.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: for each polymer species a separate type of block copolymer would result, thus the block copolymers comprising these different species cannot be considered to share a common technical feature.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
